venice_neighborhood_clowncil 🎪❤️ SOMETIMES THE CIRCUS GETS IT RIGHT... ❤️🎪

Here at the Venice Neighborhood Clowncil, we spend a lot of time under the Big Top watching, participating in, and parodying, our local VNC three-ring circus. 🎪

But this? This is the kind of Venice circus we absolutely love.

🎪 The Venice Flying Carousel @veniceflyingcarousel

Whenever it pops up, we make a point of taking our little clowns for a spin—and frankly, we think every Venice kid should get to grow up with this wonderfully weird, completely charming piece of our community.

Created by Venice artist Robin Murez @robin.murez, the Flying Carousel is a hand-carved, human-powered kinetic public art installation filled with whimsical Venice-themed animals. Each piece tells a little bit of our history, culture and the wonderfully eccentric stories that make Venice... Venice.

And perhaps the most Venice thing about it?

It's FREE. ❤️

Free rides. Free community workshops. Free activities. No velvet rope. No VIP section. No $27 artisanal carousel ticket. Just public art, kids having fun, neighbors gathering together and a little Venice magic.

But we think it's time our Flying Carousel stopped having to fly from place to place.

🎪 THE VENICE FLYING CAROUSEL NEEDS A PERMANENT BIG TOP HOME AT CENTENNIAL PARK, NEXT TO THE VENICE LIBRARY. 🎪🌳

Imagine it: a permanent community gathering place where generations of Venice kids can ride, laugh and learn a little about the wonderfully strange place they call home.

So, fellow Venetians, help us make some noise—the good kind for once.

And when you write Traci @councilwomantracipark, be sure to remind her how much fun she had riding the Flying Carousel herself on May 2. 🎪🎪

Come on, CD11. Give this little Venice treasure a permanent place to land.

SAVE A SPOT UNDER THE BIG TOP.
BRING THE FLYING CAROUSEL HOME TO CENTENNIAL PARK.
